A few questions about what you have already done. Be specific.

Current role / occupation [short text]

What you do day-to-day. Include organization and title if applicable.

Highest level of education completed [short text]

Degree, institution, year. If still in progress, say so.

Years of professional or operational experience [single-select · options: Under 2 years / 2–5 years / 5–10 years / 10+ years]

Whether inside SFL, paid work, or independent projects. Used for the comparison cohort matching.

Sector or domain you primarily operate in [single-select · options: Media / Policy / Law / Business / Academia / NGO / Government / Activism or Movement / Other]

If you operate across more than one, pick the most relevant for the project you are applying with.

SFL involvement / story [long text · 100 words]

Year you started with SFL, your current role (coordinator / national coordinator / regional coordinator), and any prior SFL programs you have completed (GAP, Prometheus, regional programs, etc.).

Other fellowships, accelerators, or formal leadership programs you have completed [long text · 2 lines · optional]

Outside SFL. Name and year for each. Two lines maximum. Optional — leave blank if none.

Three measurable outcomes you have delivered in the last three years [long text · 3 lines]

Inside or outside SFL. One sentence each. Specific over abstract — "organized 3 chapter events" not "led student outreach."

Prior shipped projects (separate from the project you are applying with) [long text · 150 words]

Name 1–2 projects you have shipped in the past three years that are separate from the one you are applying with. One sentence each — what it was, what changed in the world because of it. If you have not yet shipped a separate project, say so honestly.

Link(s) to any work you have produced [URL]

Article, video, code, project, campaign, anything we can verify exists.

Section 3 — The five screening questions

These five questions are the spine of the application. Spend the most time here. Your possible admittance into this program sits in this section.

01. What impact project or business are you driving forward?

Project name [short text]

What you call it.

Project description [long text · 250 words]

What it is, who it serves, and why it matters. 250 words maximum.

Project status [single-select · options: idea stage (still scoping) / in-progress (active work, no public output yet) / launched (already delivering observable outputs)]

Where the project is today.

Geography or community served [short text]

Country, region, sector, or population the project serves.

02. What specifically will it produce in the next 12 months?

Three concrete, observable outputs you commit to delivering in the next 12 months [long text · 3 lines]

Each one should be something we could observe in the world — not something you will "learn" or "explore." Examples: "a regulation amended," "an organization legally registered with first staff hired," "a media platform crossing 50,000 monthly views."

How will we know each output landed? [long text · 200 words]

For each of the three outputs above, name the externally verifiable proof — the bill text, the registered entity, the platform metrics, etc.

03. Why are you the person to lead this project?

Why you [long text · 200 words]

What is your unfair advantage — relevant experience, network, language, geography, technical skill, or constraint that uniquely positions you to ship this project. 200 words maximum.

04. Prior project experience

Name 1–2 projects you have shipped in the past 3 years (separate from the project you're applying with). One sentence each — what it was, what changed in the world because of it. 300 words maximum

05. What is the riskiest assumption underneath your project?

The assumption [short text · one sentence]

Name the single assumption most likely to kill your project if it turns out to be wrong.

How you plan to test it [long text · 150 words]

How will you find out if the assumption holds? When? With what evidence?

What you would do if the assumption proved wrong [long text · 100 words]

Be honest. Pivot? Kill the project? Reshape? Specific.

Section 4 – Attachments

Project proposal and supporting files [file upload · multiple files allowed]

Please attach your project proposal and/or any relevant files that will support your application.

Section 5 – Capacity and commitment

The Fellowship is 12 months of intellectual sessions, mentorship, and project execution. We need to know you can give it the time it deserves.

Time you can commit per week, on average, over the full program year [single-select · options: 5–10 hours / 10–15 hours / 15+ hours]

Honest answer.

Resource environment for the project [single-select · options: Full-time independent / Part-time alongside other work / Backed by employer or institution / Volunteer time only]

How you will fund your time and the work itself during the program year.

Other major commitments during the program year [long text · 150 words]

Work, study, family obligations, other fellowships, other programs. Be specific about scope. We are screening for honest constraint, not for absence of constraint.

Can you attend an in-person retreat in spring 2027 (Between March & May), location in Europe?

[single-select · options: yes / yes with visa support needed / cannot confirm yet]

Multi-day intensive, attendance is required for completing fellows.

Section 6 – References

Two people who can speak to your work. We will reach out only if you advance to the interview stage.

Reference 1 – Inside SFL [short text · 3 lines]

Name, role / chapter, email. Someone who has seen your work.

Reference 2 – Outside SFL [short text · 3 lines]

Name, role, email. Mentor, collaborator, employer.

Section 7 – Consent for long-term tracking

This section is required. We measure the impact of The Statement Fellowship by comparing the selected cohort against a matched group of applicants who were not selected. To do that, we need consent from all applicants – selected and not – to track public outcomes data over time.

Statement Fellowship outcomes tracking framework:

- If you are selected: tracking is part of the program through the year and at 1, 2, 3, and 5+ year intervals after.
- If you are not selected: tracking is passive (publications, role changes, media mentions you make publicly) plus one annual touchpoint by email asking you to confirm key outcomes.
- Tracking continues only as long as the data is useful for the comparison. You may withdraw consent at any time by emailing us.

I consent to outcomes tracking as described above for up to 5 years, whether or not I am selected as a fellow. [checkbox · must be ticked to submit]

Required.

Section 8 – Anything else

Anything else you want us to know? [long text · 200 words · optional]

Optional. 200 words maximum.
